

REGGIE GUIDE

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE
Illinois State University

Your academic journey starts with UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

We're here to support you as you adjust to university life, whether you need help with study skills, tutoring, or finding a major.

We want students to become successful learners, to eliminate obstacles, and to build the skills they need to thrive in their college careers.

College is a place to grow and explore. At University College, we will help you nurture your passion with enthusiasm and care.

We help students:

- Make a smooth transition to college
- Understand academic policies and requirements
- Prepare for more advanced classes
- Explore majors and other academic opportunities
- Develop skills leading to academic success
- Progress toward graduation

Academic Advisement

Academic advising at Illinois State is an integral part of the educational process. Working in partnership with advisors, students learn about academic policies, procedures, and university resources to develop strategies to pursue their individual educational goals.

Departmental or School Advisement

Undergraduate students with a declared major who have earned 24 or more semester hours meet with their departmental or school advisor.

University College Academic Advisement

All undergraduate students who have earned less than 24 semester hours of credit, and all students who are undeclared or unclassified meet with their University College academic advisor.

Honors Program Advisement

Undergraduate students in the Honors Program will meet with their assigned Honors advisor.

Tips for New Students

Start your first semester strong by getting the best GPA you can!

- Your first semester GPA is critical! Remember, your major may have higher GPA requirements than the minimum 2.0 university GPA requirement.

Time management is key to be a successful first-year student.

- Utilize the Julia N. Visor Center for all of your academic resources! The Visor Center offers academic coaching, tutoring, workshops, and specialized programs to help you succeed.

Be proactive. Ask for help and seek assistance when necessary.

- Contact your academic advisor if you have any questions!

Meet other first-year students!

- Register for IDS 108—Success 101, or IDS 128—Thriving in College, Career & Beyond (THRIVE) to help you successfully transition to ISU!

Be sure to check your Illinois State University email. Important updates from the University and your advisor will be sent to your Illinois State email account!

Additional Campus Resources

Emergency Alert System

- Students MUST sign up in order to receive emergency alerts via email, phone call, or text message.
